Resolved, 'That the people of the island of Cuba are and of right ought to be free and independent.'

DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The Act of the Legislature of 1897 requiring the payment of a poll tax, not as a condition to voting, but to registration, has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The opinion is by Justices Bonaparte and Massey, Chief Justice Belknap for some reason not participating, though not dissenting.

The Court holds that the Act is unconstitutional and very concisely, though clearly, gives the reasons for so holding. It says that under Article II, Section 6 of the Constitution, the Legislature can prescribe what oath or oaths may be necessary as a test of electoral qualification, but it cannot impose or trammel the right of suffrage by adding new qualifications. Registration is not an electoral qualification, but a means for ascertaining and determining in a uniform mode the persons who possess the prescribed electoral qualifications. The Legislature may by the enactment of a proper bill add to the electoral qualifications the payment of an annual poll tax and when it does the payment of such tax may be made one of the conditions of registration and not before. If the object of the Act of 1897 was to make the payment of a poll tax a condition to the right of voting, its title is deceptive and misleading and does not express the object or subject of the Act as required by Article IV, Section 17 of the Constitution; but whatever may have been the object of the Act in the contemplation of the Legislature the Court finds this spectacle presented:
"The title of the Act without a corresponding Act and an Act without a corresponding title."

The Act was objectionable for various reasons besides those of which the Court took cognizance. It put a price upon the elective franchise, the only thing which the poor man holds in common with the millionaire. It required the person who resided permanently in the State, if under sixty years of age, to pay a poll tax for the year in which he was registered and also the next preceding year, while the voter who absented himself from the State in the years in which no elections were held could register upon the payment of poll tax for one year. It disfranchised the eleemosynary poor, because they could not pay poll taxes and, therefore, could not register, and virtually deprived many poor, but deserving men from exercising one of the proudest privileges of American citizenship.
The Act was not, as many supposed, intended to increase the revenue, as it prohibited the poor man, who desired to borrow the money necessary to pay his poll tax, from doing so if the man from whom he expected to get the loan happened to be a candidate for any office from President to Constable.
But the Act taxing registration is dead and that it never will be resurrected by future Legislatures is a consummation devoutly to be wished.

VOLUNTEERS SHOULD BE PRO-VIDED FOR.

The regulations established by the officers of the State Militia for recruiting the several companies of the National Guard up to the maximum for volunteers are not satisfactory to many who desire to enlist in the Nevada infantry battalion. The captains of the several companies are not authorized to incur any expense on Government account for the transportation of enlisted men from their homes to the headquarters of the companies. Neither are they permitted to incur any expense for the maintenance of enlisted men in the interval between enlistment and being mustered in the service. The principal officers of the militia evidently made a mistake in not authorizing recruiting officers to incur certain expenses provided for in the general orders of the War Department, one of which states that the transportation of enlisted men from their homes to the place of rendezvous, as well as the expenses of the recruiting officers, clerk hire and office rent and of the maintaining and sheltering the enlisted men will be paid out of the proper funds at the disposal of the War Department.

The men who are to compose the Nevada infantry battalion ought to be mobilized where they can have the advantage of being drilled daily and they doubtless will be immediately after the Fourth of July. They should have every opportunity to perfect themselves in military tactics before they are sent to a foreign country to fight the Spaniards as their success may depend upon the training they receive before they are ordered to the front.

Ten cars of light artillery from Washington, D. C., passed through to San Francisco Sunday.

SILVER ADVANCING.

Five Years History of the White Metal.
The advance of silver quotations yesterday to 59 1/4 cents, the second time for this month, caused considerable pleasure and self-congratulation among mining and business men, as it gives foundation to the hope as well as the belief that the white metal will not cease its upward march until conditions will be such that all of the silver producers of the West can be reopened and profitably worked. During the past five years the cause of silver has had a hard row to hoe, and at times the prospect was especially gloomy, as during this period quotations touched as low as 52 cents.

It was five years ago yesterday that silver quotations started on their downward course. This was on Saturday, June 24, 1893, the quotations being 80 1/4 cents.

On Monday of the following week it was announced that the Indian mints had been closed to the coinage of silver, the result being that there were exciting times on the streets of Salt Lake, silver producers feeling that the jig was up and that the bottom had dropped out of everything, the quotations that day being 77 cents.

The next day it dropped to 73 and the next to 69, and then the dealing in futures began and the day following spot silver was quoted at 62 cents and 60 cents, 30 days. The next day silver rallied a little, the morning quotation being 63 cents spot and 62 cents, buyer 30 cents, and in the afternoon private advices were received indicating an advance, the closing quotation being 68 cents.

On the 1st day of July, 1893, silver touched the 70-cent mark and in August it went as high as 75 1/4 cents, and the quotations hung around this point until late in October, when the purchasing act of the Sherman bill was repealed.

On August 31st silver closed at 68 cents, and ever since it has fluctuated back and forth, gradually losing ground, until, during the past few years, it has had a hard time to keep above the 50-cent mark, and in consequence there is much rejoicing in mining circles to see that the daily quotations are gradually moving upward.

Still, it is a long way yet to the mark occupied by the white metal in 1890, when, as a well-known mining man stated yesterday, silver was quoted at $1.18 and lead at $5.

The slump in silver and lead has almost paralyzed the mining industry in this western country during the past eight or nine years, and almost every other line of business has suffered in the same ratio, and there is no questioning the accuracy of the statement made to the effect that until silver is restored to its rightful position by the side of gold this country will never again feel or see genuine and lasting prosperity.—Salt Lake Herald, 25th.

Mrs. Bryan's Unique Experience.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan will have an experience in Denver that has never fallen to the lot of the wife of any candidate for the presidency of the United States. She will meet hundreds of women who can say that they voted for her husband.

Small incidents of the present often become important when they belong to the past. In some pages of future history it may be written that Mrs.
Bryan happened to be the first woman to be distinguished by this apparently common-place fact. Mrs. Washington and Mrs. Lincoln were certainly not permitted to meet women who cast ballots for the president of the United States.

Of course, the interest centering in clubs temporarily efface the issues of the campaign of '98. It is doubtful whether many of Denver's guests will hear the silver question mentioned; this week the words "sixteen to one" have no significance except to suggest the proportion of women to men. Yet Mrs. Bryan will feel assured of most loyal friendship on the part of every woman. Denver gives her hearty welcome.—Denver Republican.

THE POLL TAX CASE.

The Supreme Court Holds The Law Unconstitutional.

In the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada, ex. rel. John Wilson, Relator, vs. W. H. Stone, Registry Agent, Respondent.

Decision by Bonfield, J. and Massey, J.
The relator applied to the respondent, a Justice of Peace and ex-officio Registry Agent of Carson Township, Ormsby County, to be registered as a voter. The respondent refused to register his name on the ground that the relator did not exhibit a poll tax receipt for the years 1897 and 1898 as required by an act of the Legislature entitled: "An Act to require the payment of poll tax by all legal voters under sixty years of age." Approved February 9, 1897.

It appears that the relator possesses all the qualifications of an elector as prescribed by Sec. 1, Art. II of the Constitution of this State. The payment of poll tax is not among such qualifications. The relator, to test the validity of such act, petitions this Court for a writ of mandamus to compel the respondent to register his name under the provisions of the general registration law.

Section 6 of Art. II of the Constitution requires that: "Provision shall be made by law for the registration of the names of the electors within the counties of which they may be residents, and for the ascertainment, by proper proofs, of the persons who shall be entitled to the right of suffrage as hereby established to preserve the purity of elections, and to regulate the manner of holding and making returns of the same; and the Legislature shall have power to prescribe by law any other or further rules or oaths as may be deemed necessary as a test of electoral qualification."

In conformity to the above requirements of said Sec. 6, the Legislature in 1869 passed the existing general registration act. Considering the provisions of this act alone the relator is entitled to be registered thereunder; but the act in question of 1897 modifies the provisions of the general registration act, to-wit: "Sec. 1. The name of no person under the age of sixty years shall be registered by any registry agent until such person shall exhibit a proper receipt for the poll tax required by law for the then current year and also for the preceding year when such person shall have been an inhabitant of the State of Nevada during the last six months of the preceding year; * * *

Said Sec. 6 of Art. II of the Constitution authorizes the Legislature to provide by law for the registration of all persons who possess the prescribed qualifications of electors, but it does not authorize the Legislature to impose any condition on the right of registration other than the prescribed qualifications of electors, and when the Legislature does so it exceeds its authority.

In Chilton vs. Harris, 7 Nev. 64, it is held that: "Under Art. II, Sec. 6, of the Constitution, the Legislature can prescribe what oath or oaths may be necessary as a test of electoral qualification, but it cannot impede or trammel the right of suffrage by adding new qualifications."

Registration is not an electoral qualification but is only a means of ascertaining and determining in a uniform mode the persons who possess the prescribed electoral qualifications, and to secure in an orderly and convenient manner the right of voting.

Boyle vs. Board of Examiners, 21 Nev. 67.

But it is argued that Sec. 7 of Art. II of the Constitution authorizes the Legislature to make the payment of an annual poll tax a condition to the right of voting and that the act in question has done so. It is true that the Constitution confers such power. The Legislature may by the enactment of a proper bill add to the electoral qualifications prescribed by said Sec. 1, Art. II, the payment of an annual poll tax, and when it does the payment of such tax may be made one of the conditions of registration and not before.

If the object of the Act of 1897 was "to make the payment of an annual poll tax a condition to the right of voting" then its title, "An Act to require the payment of poll tax by all legal voters under sixty years of age," is deceptive and misleading and does not express the object or subject of the act and does not conform to the requirements of Sec. 17, Art. IV of the Constitution. Said Section requires that the subject or object of every law enacted by the Legislature shall be briefly expressed in the title. That a compliance with this provision of the Constitution is essential to the validity of every law enacted by the Legislature has been so often decided by this Court, that it is not worth while to cite the cases.

If the object of the act was "to require the payment of poll tax by all legal voters under sixty years of age," as expressed in its title, then the Legislature equally failed of its purpose, for the body of the act does not require any one to pay any poll tax. Whatever may have been the object of the act in the contemplation of the Legislature, we have this spectacle presented to us: The title of an act without a corresponding act and an act without a corresponding title.

We are of opinion that the act for the foregoing reasons is unconstitutional.

An Impressive Scene.

During the graduating exercises of the Kansas State Normal school last Wednesday a similar scene took place to that which occurred on Commencement Day at our own University when Dr. Stubbs presented the diplomas and upon reaching the position in the class which Captain Linscott should have occupied, told the audience that the student had answered his country's call and then presented the diploma as if the graduate were present.

In Kansas a number of men in the Senior Class had enlisted and gone to the front, and it was said that they would not receive their diplomas, but when the class of 130, including the absentees' empty chairs, were arranged on the platform, the President addressed each vacant chair awarding the diploma with the remark "Absent on duty at their country's call." The scene was very impressive and touching.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. She writes H. C. Hamnick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free. S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store Regular size 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed.

Arm Torn Off.

E. T. Hale, formerly superintendent of the Keystone mine in Amador county, had his arm nearly severed from his body last Tuesday at the App mine, in Tuolumne county. He has been superintending a canvass plant at App, and is supposed to have fallen on a circular saw, though the exact nature of the accident was not learned.

Mr. Hale was at one time a representative to the Legislature from Storey county where he is well known. He also resided here for a short time and was employed at the Reduction works.
